AG49-A Illustration Update

Date Revision to AG49-A Deadline for IAUL18

At Prudential, we are committed to supporting our financial professionals in the event of regulatory changes. We wanted to share a timing revision to the new required illustrative limits set by Actuarial Guideline, AG49-A. These limits were initially set to go into effect on November 25th. However, this date has been extended by the NAIC and the AG49-A limits will now be required on any cases placed on or after December 14th.

Pending IAUL18 illustrations run prior to October 19th, will need to be reviewed to ensure proper compliance if not placed by December 14th. This will ensure that the illustration did not exceed limits outlined by this guideline. Note this review is only needed for the IAUL18 product.

Please be aware that placing policies prior to this deadline will help avoid situations where the product can no longer be illustrated as initially sold.
